Subject: Fw: Draft itinerary for McLerran/Sussman/Stoner AK trip May 31 to June 3

Hi Rick,

Tami and Patty had asked me to be part of the mining training, but have since not contacted me as they developed the trip. I am assuming that they decided that they could cover the issues. I have plenty to do so that is not problem. But the last time I was on a Pebble site trip the PLP tour guide, Mike Smith, provided a great deal of misinformation. I am wondering if I should go along on the site visit as a fact checker? Or do you think that everyone is now well enough briefed on this project that it is not likely distortions would go unrecognized?

Hi Rick,
Here is the new plan: (Changes to Thursday and Friday)
Tuesday - travel to Anchorage
Wednesday - travel to Iliamna, tour Proposed Pebble Mine site, meet with Iliamna & Newhalen (tribal councils, village corporations) evening
Thursday - AM charter Iliamna Air to Ekwok, travel in boat to New Stuyahok and Koliganak. Meet with local tribal governments, community and Elders along the way, and overnight in Koliganak.
Friday - AM fly from Koliganak to Dillingham - AM - Meet in Dillingham with interested organizations, tribes, and community members about Bristol Bay Watershed Assessment, and then likely charter from Dillingham back to Anchorage (regularly scheduled flights have been full).

I think you all need to spend the night in Koliganak to allow for ample time to travel along the river, get up into the watershed, and LISTEN to the Elders in New Stuyahok, making your way to Koliganak to meet with people and spend the night.

Luki has a covered boat which will be more comfortable and he can take you all from Ekwok. We will need to reimburse him for this expense. Gas and funds for using the boat, we can figure out what the rental fee should be.

The charter from Dillingham to Anchorage should be in the afternoon, to ensure there is time for you to get into Dillingham from Koliganak and then have an hour or two to meet with people in Dillingham. Ideally you could take some additional time to meet with folks at the local university campus (Todd Radenbaugh). I leave that up to you, don't want to make folks travel on a Saturday but that is always an option.

If you have any questions please let me know.

Thanks - Tami

Dates haven't changed. I left a message with Dennis yesterday about confirming the broad itinerary. We are working feverishly on the details. The broad itinerary is:

Travel to Anchorage on Tues May 31, 2011
Travel to Iliamna on Wed June 1, tour pebble, meet with the Iliamna/Newhalen community that evening
A Tribal visit/tour in the Watershed on Thursday, June 2 and an evening meeting in Dillingham
Travel back to Anchorage Friday morning, June 3.

There are a lot of moving parts right now. Judy and Tami are putting a lot of effort into nailing a few of those down this week. I am monitoring from the Bellevue oasis.

Hi Rick-
What's the latest on Bristol Bay travel? Have the dates for the trip been firmed up yet?
Thanks!
Kendra

Hello Kendra,

What is the latest on the Bristol Bay Trip? Nancy said she heard the dates had changed. Just checking to see where we stand on this so I can keep Nancy's calendar up to date. THANK YOU!

Martha
